

Editorial,

A New Milestone for the Iranian Journal of Orthodontics

With great pride and excitement, we announce the recent indexing of the Iranian Journal of Orthodontics in Scopus, one of the world's most reputable abstract and citation databases for peer-reviewed literature. This recognition represents a significant achievement for our journal and a significant step forward in the journal's mission to contribute to the global orthodontic community.

Being indexed in Scopus not only increases the visibility and accessibility of the research we publish but also confirms the scientific quality and editorial standards upheld by the journal. Over the past years, we have continuously tried to enhance the rigor of our peer-review process, attract high-quality submissions, and promote ethical and impactful orthodontic research.

This accomplishment would not have been possible without the dedication and support of our editorial team, peer reviewers, authors, and the Iranian Association of Orthodontics. Their commitment to advancing the field through academic excellence has been crucial in reaching this milestone.

We sincerely thank our contributors and readers for their ongoing trust and engagement. We look forward to this new issue and warmly welcome researchers worldwide to submit their original work to the Iranian Journal of Orthodontics. Together, we will continue to foster innovation, collaboration, and progress in orthodontics.
